OXFAM'S GUATEMALA RELIEF FUND

Oxfam has launched an urgent appeal for funds to assist in the relief in the Guatemala earthquake. A team of medical and skilled volunteers is also being organized.

In an interim report, Oxfam's Field Director, Reggie Norton, said that the Oxfam office in Antigua has been destroyed and a temporary office is being established. Oxfam has set up medical and hospital aid in small towns and villages in the most severely hit areas of Antigua, Chimaltenango, and San Martine. A major problem is transportation as many bridges are out and many roads have been blocked by landslides. Oxfam's relief team in Guatemala has obtained small aircraft and pilots from nearby Belize for evacuation and transport of supplies. Local timber has been secured for the temporary rebuilding of bridges.

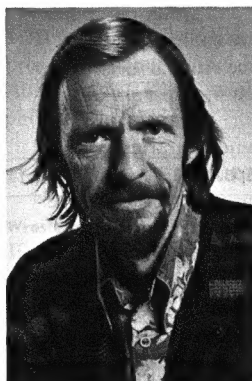

You are urged to respond immediately with donations to Oxfam, Box 12,000, Edmonton, or send them directly to the Foreign Student Office, 2-5 University Hall. Receipts will be provided. For further information call Ruth Groberman, Foreign Student Adviser, 432-4145 or Nancy Gibson, Regional Project Co-ordinator, Oxfam, 922-2177.

APPOINTMENTS

Douglas Haynes has been appointed Chairman of the Department of Art and Design effective July 1. Currently an Associate Professor in the Department, Professor Haynes studied at the Alberta College of Art in 1958 and at the Royal Academy of Art, The Hague, Holland, in 1960-61. He was elected an associate of the Royal Canadian Academy in 1970 and has exhibited his paintings at numerous art shows throughout Canada. In 1967, he received the Canada Council Senior Arts Award for painting and research on relationships of art and architecture. Professor Haynes has been visiting artist at Maryland Institute in Baltimore and the University of Saskatchewan.

Roland F. Anderson has been appointed Chairman of the Department of English with effect from July 1. Dr. Anderson studied at the University of British Columbia for his Honours BA, at the University of Wisconsin for his MA, and at the University of Toronto for his PhD, which he was awarded in 1963. After teaching in the English Department at this University for four years, he moved to New Zealand where he taught at the newly established Massey University for three years and served as acting department head during his last few months there. In 1968, he was re-appointed to the English Department at this University, and, since then, he has served on various university, faculty, and department committees as well as participating in the teaching and supervisory activities of the English Department. In 1974-75 he acted as Chairman of the English Department while the incumbent Chairman was on sabbatical leave. Dr. Anderson's main academic interests are in the novel.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE APPOINTS N.M. WILDIER

St. Joseph's College has appointed N.M. Wildiers, OFM, a specialist in the thought of Teilhard de Chardin, to its Theology Department for the fall term. Father Wildiers is a scholar of international renown and has published a number of books. Two of his better known books are The Church in the World of Tomorrow and An Introduction to Teilhard de Chardin. His most recent book is entitled Worldview and Theology from the Middle Ages until Today. Previously, he has taught at the Sorbonne and at Louvain.

Father Wildiers will teach two courses in contemporary Catholic theology at St. Joseph's College and one course on the concept of deity in Western thought for the Department of Religious Studies. There are also plans for Father Wildiers to give a series of public lectures.

This appointment is part of the fiftieth anniversary celebrations by St. Joseph's College. The College and the Department of Religious Studies hope to establish a Chair in Christian Thought and to bring a number of international scholars to the University. Father Wildiers could be the first of many first-rate Christian scholars brought to the University to enrich theological and Christian studies here.

YOU AND THE CAMPUS MAIL OPERATION

Some University staff members will be given the opportunity of learning what it takes to keep a successful mail service running smoothly. A one-hour presentation will be made concerning the campus mail service, postal codes, and envelope standardization. The sessions will consist of two video features making up the first thirty-five minutes, followed by a question and answer period.

The two video features are Don't Flunk the LSM and It Depends on You. The former is a twenty-five-minute presentation by the Federal Post Office emphasizing the use of postal codes and standard size letters and an explanation of the use of the automatic letter sorting equipment used in major post offices across Canada. The latter is a ten-minute presentation on the University of Alberta mail system and is designed to acquaint staff with the total mail system and to emphasize how individuals might assist in maintaining an efficient mail service on campus.

Two members of the Marketing Division of the Federal Post Office will attend all presentations to answer questions and present hand-outs.

A survey made in October 1975 of the departments on campus indicated that approximately 800 people will be attending. The sessions will be held in various convenient locations on campus with each session being presented to a maximum of sixty people. Beginning February 23 the sessions will run until February 27. Departments will be advised in writing of the times and locations of sessions scheduled for them.

VISITORS

- P. Sommers, Department of Physics, the University of North Carolina, visited this University on February 18. He presented a lecture, "The Boundaries of spacetimes," at the Theoretical Physics Seminar.

LIBRARY SCIENCE ANNUAL LECTURE

Lee Ash, one of America's most versatile and distinguished librarians, will speak on "Book Collecting" (his favourite subject) at the School of Library Science Annual Lecture, to be held Thursday, March 4, at 8 p.m. in TLB-2 Tory Building.

Ash has worked in major libraries in America and abroad, especially in collections and bibliography. He has also worked in the rare book trade with Brentano's and Argosy Books in New York. He has edited Library Journal and American Notes and Queries. In recent years he has been involved chiefly in consulting and survey assignments—one of them being in Toronto. A scholar in history (medieval and renaissance) and anthropology (American Indians), Ash's related interests include literary history and international affairs.

The lecture is free and everyone is welcome to attend.

VIDEO-TAPE OF COMMON MARKET LECTURE

The Department of Radio and Television video-taped Marcel Cadieux's lecture "Canada's upcoming negotiations on a contractual link with the Common Market" that he gave on February 5, at 8 p.m. in TLB-2 Tory Building. Mr. Cadieux is head of the Canadian Mission to the European Economic Community.

This tape is available in both the Humanities AV Centre and the Reserve Reading Room in the Cameron Library. Interested persons can obtain it from the tape libraries in these locations and can use the equipment in these areas to view the tapes. Other tapes presently available in these locations are: "Wage and price controls—one month after," "Developing countries on the Polar Seas" by S.M. Hodgson, Commissioner of the Northwest Territories, "Consumer lost in the market place" by Theodore P. Labuza, and "The Canadian establishment" by Peter Newman.

CONFERENCE PROMOTIONAL MATERIAL

The Graphics Division of Technical Services is available to offer assistance in the co-ordination of graphic materials required for University-related conferences and exhibitions. This service would include design and production of exterior and interior directional signage, displays, labels, badges, binders, and other related graphic materials.

For further information please contact Bill Miller, Supervisor of the Graphics Division at 432-3461 or 4184.

FACULTY-STAFF CURLING BONSPIEL

The Annual Faculty-Staff Bonspiel will be held in the Students' Union Curling Rink during Spring Reading Week, February 26, 27, and 28. First round draws are scheduled at 5 p.m., 7 p.m., and 9 p.m. on Thursday, February 26. Although preference will be given to teams which are currently entered in the Faculty Curling League, if an over-abundance of teams enter the Bonspiel, the only restriction imposed is that players must be associated with the University community.

The entry fee is $24 per rink, and each entry is guaranteed three games. Entry forms have been sent to the skips of all rinks in the Faculty Curling League and to departmental representatives. Additional entry forms are available from Stan Gault, Timetabling Office, 123 Administration Building, telephone 5186, and from Bill Quick, the Bookstore, telephone 4215.

INTRODUCTION TO EAST EUROPE AND THE SOVIET UNION

The Division of East European and Soviet Studies will offer a credit course, Int.D. 446, during the summer session. The course, which will run from July 5 to August 13, is an interdisciplinary study of society, life, and culture of the modern Ukrainian SSR and Czechoslovakia. It will be conducted in English and, like any other summer session course, will include intensive reading and written assignments.

Information concerning the course may be obtained from the Division of East European and Soviet Studies, 126 Assiniboia Hall, 432-3231.

PUBLIC MEETING

The Great Divide Trail is the subject of the next public meeting of the National and Provincial Parks Association, to be held Tuesday, February 24, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Provincial Museum. Speakers will be Archie Landals, Parks Planner for the Provincial Government; Alan Thompson, Head of the Recreation Division of the Alberta Forest Service; Brian Prior, President, Great Divide Trail Association; and a representative from Parks Canada. The Map Collection is open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

NON-CREDIT COURSES

BASIC MOUNTAINEERING COURSE

The Alpine Club of Canada is again sponsoring its basic mountaineering course.

The course will consist of eight lectures (March 3, 10, 17, 24, 31; April 7 and 28; and May 5) and three practical sessions in appropriate mountain settings.

Lectures will cover such topics as basic techniques of rock, snow, and ice climbing, safety, equipment, and rope-handling and knots. Practical sessions will be held on the weekends of May 8 and 9 and May 15 and 16 (rock school), May 29 and 30 (snow school), and June 26 and 27 (ice school).

Lectures will be held evenings in room

V-111 V-Wing, beginning at 7:30. A fee of $2 will be charged.

Although the course is open to anyone, the size of the class may have to be limited.

AIRPHOTO INTERPRETATION

J.D. Mollard, President of J.D. Mollard & Associates Limited, Consulting Civil Engineers and Engineering Geologists, Regina, will conduct a short course in Airphoto Interpretation for the Faculty of Extension March 8 through 12. The purpose of this course is to outline the basic principles, techniques, and applications of airphoto interpretation. Engineers, earth scientists, planners, life scientists, and other professionals involved in the development of Canada will have an opportunity to learn to identify landforms in stereo. Northern terrain studies will be emphasized including northern routes and sites in permafrost affected regions. The objective will be to consider the total environment and its relationship to economic development.

The course will consist of lectures, practical demonstrations, slides, and laboratory sessions where the participants will examine and interpret stereoscopic airphotos in order to develop their interpretation capabilities.

Brochures outlining the course in detail are available by calling 432-5532. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $180.

FUNDAMENTALS OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW: A SHORT COURSE

The Faculty of Extension is offering this introductory course on the basic principles of Administrative Law. The course will serve to enlighten individuals staffing various tribunals and departments of government on the legal constraints courts have traditionally placed over their activities. For many, this introduction should clarify the often vaguely understood relationships between the courts, the citizen, and government.

The course will be held March 11 and 12 and should be of interest to members of government boards and agencies involved in the making of quasi-judicial decisions and civil servants whose decisions affect certain basic rights and freedoms of individuals. Citizens who are interested in the operations of government and elected officials wishing to know more about their powers and responsibilities relating to the administrative process will also find the course of interest. Michael F. Rutter, Assistant Professor of Law will conduct the seminar.

Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $60 including lunch each day. Course hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The registration deadline is March 8. Additional information may be obtained by calling 432-5052.

MANAGEMENT OF TIME

Techniques for managing time to yield better results will be presented in this Faculty of Extension seminar to be held March 11 and 12. The seminar is for managers who find it increasingly difficult to arrange sufficient time for the duties and responsibilities of their positions. The instructors will be Robert A. Schulz and Henry G. Vogel, both Associate Professors of Business at the University of Calgary.

Registrations for this seminar are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $95 which includes lunch and materials. Brochures and additional information are available by calling 432-5067.

FUNDAMENTALS OF AIR POLLUTION CONTROL

The Fundamentals of Air Pollution Control will be discussed in a two-day seminar March 18 and 19 sponsored by the Faculty of Extension.

The purpose of the seminar is to introduce practicing engineers and technologists to air pollution problems, control technology, and legislation. The technical emphasis will be on the fundamental aspects of the problem, and the treatment will be largely non-mathematical.

Among the topics to be discussed are sources and effects of pollutants, government control of pollution abatement, meteorology and stack design, control technology, control alternatives, stack and source sampling, and ambient monitoring.

Instructors will be J. Lack, P.Eng., Head, Air Quality Control Branch, Pollution Control Division, Alberta Environment; F.D. Otto, P.Eng., Professor and Chairman of Chemical Engineering, and D.J. Wilson, P.Eng., Associate Professor of Mechanical Engineering, both of the University of Alberta.

The seminar is limited to 35 participants. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $125 including lecture materials, hardbacked textbook, and lunch each day. Additional information and brochures outlining the seminar contents are available by calling 432-5532.
